RE: Attachment- distinction between former resident/new non-resident offender

To further explain and clarify the basis for the distinction between residents and non-residents please consider the following:

Former resident offenders are very different from new resident's offenders, because we know the former residents, we know what they did and how they did it, and we can better monitor them and help them to re-integrate into the village community. Many times the officers are familiar with former residents and have established rapport with them.
